AT A GLANCE

A focused foundation for practical relief

Elizabeth Osarogue Foundation (EOF) is an incorporated trustee established to provide organized, dignity-centred support to people facing hardship.

19 May 2026
Date of incorporation

Benin City
Current operating geography

2 current areas
Food and essentials; emergency assistance

Inclusive service
Open to eligible people without religious discrimination

Practical compassion delivered with dignity.

EOF grew from Elizabeth Osarogue's years of personal charitable service and her desire to respond more consistently to people facing hardship. Formalization created a clearer platform for programmes, governance, documentation and responsible partnership.

The foundation begins where it can work responsibly: within Benin City and nearby communities. It will extend its reach only as funding, systems, people and trusted partnerships allow.

PURPOSE

What guides our work

WHAT WE DO NOW

Mission

To provide practical humanitarian assistance to widows, widowers, older people and other eligible vulnerable households through food relief, essential support and targeted emergency assistance delivered with dignity, compassion and accountability.

THE FUTURE WE SEEK

Vision

A Nigeria where widows, widowers, older people and vulnerable households can access timely support and live with greater dignity, security and hope.

Our values

Compassion	Listen carefully and respond with useful action where EOF has capacity.
Dignity	Protect privacy, choice, agency and personal worth.
Integrity	Tell the truth about programmes, results, resources and limits.
Accountability	Record decisions, reconcile resources and explain how support was used.
Community	Work with community knowledge and trusted partners while applying fair standards.

Practical support, delivered with dignity and accounted for responsibly.

EOF brand promise

FOUNDER

A personal commitment became an organized mission

Pastor Elizabeth Osarogue is the Founder and Chairperson of Elizabeth Osarogue Foundation.

Her commitment to humanitarian service is shaped by lived experience. As a widow of many years, Elizabeth understands the emotional and practical strain that bereavement and limited support can place on daily life.

Elizabeth helped people personally for many years before EOF was formed, sometimes with support from others. She established the foundation to turn that personal commitment into more organized assistance with clearer systems, evidence and accountability.

She also recalls a spiritual experience from decades ago—a flourishing tree and packages containing gifts and blessings—which she understands as part of her calling to help others. The tree now carries quiet meaning within EOF's identity: life, shelter, renewal and hope.

Her Christian faith is part of her personal motivation. EOF's humanitarian service remains inclusive and non-sectarian: eligibility never depends on prayer, religious attendance, conversion or agreement with the founder's beliefs.

PEOPLE AND PLACE

Who we serve

EOF gives priority to people facing material hardship whose needs fall within a defined programme and available resources.

Widows and widowers

People navigating hardship after the loss of a spouse.

Older people

Older adults facing material need, isolation or limited support.

Other vulnerable households

Households that meet a defined programme's eligibility criteria.

WITHIN CURRENT CAPACITY

Needs EOF can address

Food and household essentials; verified urgent medication or financial needs; clear information; and responsible referrals when EOF cannot provide the required support.

A DIGNIFIED EXPERIENCE

What people should expect

Respectful communication, a fair assessment, privacy, a clear decision and honest information about available resources. Assistance is not guaranteed to every applicant.

Beginning in Benin City, EOF combines community proximity with responsible, documented delivery.

Current programme focus

EOF concentrates on assistance it can define, assess, deliver and document responsibly.

CURRENT PROGRAMME AREA

EOF Food & Essentials Relief

Food items and essential household support for eligible priority beneficiaries and other vulnerable households whose needs fit the programme's criteria.

EOF Emergency Assistance

Targeted support for verified urgent needs, including medication or carefully controlled financial assistance. Where practical, payment goes directly to a verified provider or vendor.

The delivery standard

1
Defined need

2
Verified decision

3
Documented delivery

Support depends on assessed need, programme eligibility, safeguarding considerations and available resources.

EOF does not present a programme as active merely because it appears within the foundation's broader charitable objects. Public information reflects what is genuinely operational.

RESPONSIBLE GROWTH

A pathway shaped by readiness—not publicity

EOF's charitable scope is broad, but new services will be introduced only when the foundation can deliver them safely and consistently.

WHEN SYSTEMS AND FUNDING ARE READY

Near-term development

• EOF Clothing Support

• EOF Temporary Shelter & Home Repair Support

Each service requires clear eligibility, sourcing or provider arrangements, safeguards, budget approval and completion evidence.

AFTER PROFESSIONAL ASSESSMENT

Longer-term ambition

• Skills acquisition and livelihood support

• A dedicated shelter or safe haven

These ambitions require needs assessment, specialist capability, sustained funding, legal review, staffing, referral pathways and Board oversight.

Five conditions for expansion

- A responsible programme lead and clear decision authority.
- Written eligibility, safeguarding, financial and complaints controls.
- Funding that can sustain delivery beyond a single publicity event.
- Verified need and capable delivery or referral partners.
- Complete reporting from the previous activity cycle and formal Board oversight.

Growth follows capacity, evidence and trusted partnership.

HOW WE WORK

A clear path from need to responsible support

The process protects fairness, privacy and accountability while helping EOF respond within its real capacity.

1	Enquiry or referral A person, trusted referrer or partner identifies a possible need through a controlled contact route.
2	Private assessment EOF records the need, checks programme eligibility and avoids unnecessary sensitive information.
3	Decision An authorized person records whether support is confirmed, conditional, deferred, referred or declined.
4	Safe delivery Assistance is delivered discreetly; urgent payments use verified providers where practical.
5	Evidence and reconciliation Approvals, receipts, acknowledgements and any permitted media are linked to the activity or case.
6	Follow-up or referral EOF records feedback, closes the file and offers a responsible referral where available.

A request creates an opportunity for fair assessment—not a guarantee of assistance.

OUR STANDARD

Dignity, inclusion and protection

EOF treats dignity as an operating standard that shapes assessment, delivery, communication and storytelling.

Respect

People are addressed as individuals with agency and rights—not as objects of charity.

Consent

Images, names and stories are published only with informed permission; refusal does not affect eligibility.

Safety

Safeguarding concerns and complaints are escalated through defined channels.

Privacy

Sensitive needs are assessed discreetly and records are kept under controlled access.

Fairness

Selection follows programme criteria, not favouritism, publicity value or personal pressure.

Honesty

EOF states what it can provide, acknowledges limits and corrects material errors.

FAITH AND SERVICE

Inclusive and non-sectarian

Humanitarian assistance is not conditional on prayer, religious participation, conversion or agreement with the founder's beliefs.

Non-partisan

EOF may cooperate with public institutions for humanitarian purposes, but it does not endorse parties, candidates or campaigns.

Governance that supports responsible delivery

EOF combines legal registration with practical controls for programme decisions, resources, consent, complaints and reporting.

WORKING MINIMUM

Operational controls

Eligibility and case decisions; emergency and cash assistance; donations and restricted funds; consent and privacy; safeguarding and complaints; conflicts of interest; records and reporting.

CREDIBLE COMMUNICATION

Evidence discipline

EOF reports only information it can support. Attendance estimates are not presented as unique beneficiary totals, and historical aid values are not published without complete records.

WORK WITH EOF

Partnership that meets defined needs

EOF welcomes support that strengthens practical relief, protects beneficiaries and can be documented responsibly.

Individuals

Programme-specific contributions, useful goods, skills and responsible referrals.

NGOs and community groups

Referral pathways, technical support and carefully scoped co-delivery.

Public institutions

Transparent, non-partisan coordination and lawful programme support.

Companies

Defined sponsorship, in-kind support, professional services or employee volunteering.

Health and social providers

Qualified assessment, medication support, referrals and discounted services.

Diaspora and international supporters

Support, expertise and introductions backed by clear evidence and reporting.

Every partnership begins with a defined purpose, clear responsibilities, beneficiary safeguards and an agreed reporting standard.
